Independent Reading: How Reliable Is This Account?

Tracking #: 2026-11-14-NAT-READ-NARRATOR-47

Your current novel or nonfiction book: record observed text only

Evidence type	Question
Direct fact	What does the narrator s..
Character assumption	What does someone believ..
Missing evidence	What would confirm the e..
Alternative	What other reading fits ..

1. Record the actual title, author, starting and ending pages, and at least 25 ACTIVE reading minutes. Write a three-sentence summary.

2. Identify ONE directly stated fact and ONE character opinion on today’s pages; cite the exact page for each.

Independent Reading: How Reliable Is This Account?

Tracking #: 2026-11-14-NAT-READ-NARRATOR-47

Your current novel or nonfiction book: record observed text only

Evidence type	Question
Direct fact	What does the narrator s..
Character assumption	What does someone believ..
Missing evidence	What would confirm the e..
Alternative	What other reading fits ..

3. Choose a claim about a person’s motive and cite TWO separate text clues within today’s page range, explaining what each clue does and does not establish.

4. Describe an important missing perspective or piece of evidence and explain how it limits the narrator’s account in THREE sentences.

Independent Reading: How Reliable Is This Account?

Tracking #: 2026-11-14-NAT-READ-NARRATOR-47

Your current novel or nonfiction book: record observed text only

Evidence type	Question
Direct fact	What does the narrator s..
Character assumption	What does someone believ..
Missing evidence	What would confirm the e..
Alternative	What other reading fits ..

5. Write a reasonable alternative interpretation of the same event and give one specific future observation that could distinguish the possibilities.

6. Write a SIX-sentence balanced evaluation: stated fact, two clues, inference, alternative and a careful limit on your conclusion.