Independent Reading: What the Book Says, What I Think

Tracking #: 2026-11-13-EMM-READ-QUOTE-GUESS-46

Use your OWN actual book (continue The Boxcar Children if that remains your book)

Record	Evidence to provide
Book	Full title and author
Reading	Actual start/end pages and true active minutes
Fact	Short quote, actual page number
Inference	Clue, what you think, one limit

1. Write the full title and AUTHOR from your actual cover/title page. Record page range and active reading minutes; the minutes must describe real reading, not portal clicks.

2. Copy one short exact line or concrete stated event from today's pages. Write its precise page number and explain in one sentence what the words mean.

Use your OWN actual book (continue The Boxcar Children if that remains your book)

Record	Evidence to provide
Book	Full title and author
Reading	Actual start/end pages and true active minutes
Fact	Short quote, actual page number
Inference	Clue, what you think, one limit

3. Write a possible inference about a character’s plan, feeling or choice. Support it with TWO different clues from pages you actually read.

4. Draw a two-column chart headed ’The book SAYS’ and ’I THINK’. Fill two rows with actual facts and associated inferences, each with exact page numbers.

Independent Reading: What the Book Says, What I Think

Tracking #: 2026-11-13-EMM-READ-QUOTE-GUESS-46

Use your OWN actual book (continue The Boxcar Children if that remains your book)

Record	Evidence to provide
Book	Full title and author
Reading	Actual start/end pages and true active minutes
Fact	Short quote, actual page number
Inference	Clue, what you think, one limit

5. Write about one thing the book DOES NOT establish yet. Explain why a reader should avoid treating the guess as a fact.

6. Write a four-sentence mini-summary of today's reading. Mark the stated event and the possible inference with different labels; finish with an actual page citation.