Independent Reading: Test Two Possible Motives

Tracking #: 2026-11-13-NAT-READ-TWO-MOTIVES-46

Actual independent reading - no invented book evidence

Record	Write
Book	Full title, author, new pages, true minutes
Action	One action on a page read TODAY
Motive A	Clue 1 and exact page
Motive B	Clue 2 and exact page
Unknown	What the narrator has not established

1. Record full title, author, exact page range and 25 REAL reading minutes. Explain where you stopped in one clear sentence.

2. Identify an actual important action/decision on today's pages. Give a precise citation and distinguish the stated action from any guessed motive.

Independent Reading: Test Two Possible Motives

Tracking #: 2026-11-13-NAT-READ-TWO-MOTIVES-46

Actual independent reading - no invented book evidence

Record	Write
Book	Full title, author, new pages, true minutes
Action	One action on a page read TODAY
Motive A	Clue 1 and exact page
Motive B	Clue 2 and exact page
Unknown	What the narrator has not established

3. Propose TWO different motives for that action, using distinct clue quotations or short paraphrases with exact page citations for EACH.

4. Evaluate both explanations. For each motive, give one supporting fact, one uncertainty and a sentence comparing the strength of evidence.

Independent Reading: Test Two Possible Motives

Tracking #: 2026-11-13-NAT-READ-TWO-MOTIVES-46

Actual independent reading - no invented book evidence

Record	Write
Book	Full title, author, new pages, true minutes
Action	One action on a page read TODAY
Motive A	Clue 1 and exact page
Motive B	Clue 2 and exact page
Unknown	What the narrator has not established

5. Identify one event or reliable statement in a later chapter that could distinguish the two motives. Explain why it would be more decisive than a guess.

6. Write a concise six-sentence evidence-based reading report. Label ’stated’ and ’inferred’, cite at least THREE pages from today’s range, and explain what remains uncertain.